

ANNOUNCEMENT

International Conference Crisis Management in the 21st Century: Beyond the Fukushima Tragedy

Tuesday, February 19, 2013

13:30-17:20

National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS) (政策研究大学院大学)

Sokairo Hall (想海楼ホール), 1st Floor

(Access Map: <http://www.grips.ac.jp/en/about/access/>)

The 2011 Fukushima Nuclear Power Plant Accident has brought about invaluable lessons for experts in various fields as well as an unbearable and ineradicable anxiety on a global scale. Accordingly, it is imperative that the lessons learned from the Fukushima experience are explored and shared interdisciplinarily and internationally. Being aware of the importance of this issue, the National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS) will organize a conference by inviting prominent experts both at home and abroad.

Program

13:30-13:45	Welcome Remarks Kiyoshi Kurokawa, Academic Fellow, GRIPS Former Chairman, National Diet of Japan Fukushima Nuclear Accident Independent Investigation Commission (NAIIC)
13:45-14:45	“The Tohoku Disaster: Emergency Response to the Great East Japan Earthquake and Tsunami” David Giles, Asst. Director, Program on Crisis Leadership, Harvard Kennedy School (HKS)
14:45-15:00	Break
15:00-16:00	“Getting Ready for Crisis: A Comprehensive Risk Management Framework” Arnold M. Howitt, Co-Director, Program on Crisis Leadership, Harvard Kennedy School (HKS)
16:00-17:00	“Post-Fukushima Nuclear Safety Scheme—In Search of a Confluence of Nature and Science—”: Jun Kurihara, Research Director, Canon Institute for Global Studies (CIGS) NIIC research Staff member and Former Senior Fellow, HKS
17:00-17:20	Concluding Remarks: Kiyoshi Kurokawa, GRIPS

*no simultaneous interpreting

Event Registration (No Registration Fee)

Please send us to the following information by February 14, 2013: (1) your name (first, middle, if any, and family ones in English), (2) your affiliation and title (in English), and (3) email address.

Email Address: secretariat@grips.ac.jp